

City College

Department of Botany

Plant Pathological Specimens

Digital-scan by City College Library

|                                                                                     |  |                                 |  |                                    |  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|---------------------------------|--|------------------------------------|--|
|  |  | Herbarium                |  | Teaching Botany since 1961         |  |
| Department of Botany                                                                |  | City College, Kolkata           |  | BOTANYCITY COLLEGE      |  |
| Serial No. ....                                                                     |  | D.O.C. 24/11/2024               |  | Treat others as you treat yourself |  |
| Flora of .....                                                                      |  | Family Poaceae           |  |                                    |  |
| Scientific Name Oryza sativa                                                 |  | Habit Herb               |  |                                    |  |
| Habitat Semi-aquatic                                                         |  | Local Name Dhan          |  |                                    |  |
| Locality Rice Research Institute, Chennai                                    |  | Altitude Below sea level |  |                                    |  |
| Notes Proton spot of rice. C.D. - Technic                                    |  | Collected by Srinivasan  |  |                                    |  |
| Identified by Sudipa Ghosh                                                   |  |                                 |  |                                    |  |

Herbarium

Department of Botany
City College, Kolkata

Teaching Botany since 1939

BOTANY
CITY COLLEGE

Treat others as you treat yourself

Serial No. .... D.O.C. 24/11/2024

Flora of .....

Family .... Poaceae

Scientific Name .... Oryza sativa L.

Habit .... Herb

Habitat .... Semi-aquatic

Local Name .... Dhan

Locality .... Rice Research Institute, Chikmagalur

Altitude .... Above Sea Level

Notes .... Sheath slight of Rice - 20 - 25 cm

Collected by ....

Identified by .... Subrata Gupto

| Herbarium                  |                                    | Teaching Botany since 1939         |
|----------------------------|------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Department of Botany       |                                    | BOTANY                             |
| City College, Kolkata      |                                    | CITY COLLEGE                       |
|                            |                                    | Treat others as you treat yourself |
| Serial No. ....            | D.O.C. 24.11.2024                  |                                    |
| Flora of .....             |                                    |                                    |
| Family .....               | Poaceae                            |                                    |
| Scientific Name (Hb) ..... | Oryza sativa L.                    |                                    |
| Habit .....                | Herb                               |                                    |
| Habitat .....              | Semi-aquatic                       |                                    |
| Local Name .....           | Dham                               |                                    |
| Locality .....             | Rice Paddies, Inst. Chivamal       |                                    |
| Altitude .....             | Above Sea Level                    |                                    |
| Notes .....                | Sheath ligule of rice c.o. - Rhiza |                                    |
| Collected by .....         | Sulapa Gupta                       |                                    |
| Identified by .....        | Sulapa Gupta                       |                                    |

| Herbarium             |                                                   | Teaching Botany since 1939      |
|-----------------------|---------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| Department of Botany  |                                                   | BOTANY                          |
| City College, Kolkata |                                                   | CITY COLLEGE                    |
|                       |                                                   | Treat others as you treat yours |
| Serial No. ....       | D.O.C. 24/11/2024                                 |                                 |
| Flora of .....        |                                                   |                                 |
| Family .....          | Poaceae                                           |                                 |
| Scientific Name ..... | Oryza sativa L.                                   |                                 |
| Habit .....           | Herb                                              |                                 |
| Habitat .....         | Semi-aquatic                                      |                                 |
| Local Name .....      | Dhan                                              |                                 |
| Locality .....        | Rice Research Institute, Chinsura                 |                                 |
| Altitude .....        | Above sea level                                   |                                 |
| Notes .....           | Brown Spot of Rice: Co. - Helminthosporium oryzae |                                 |
| Collected by .....    |                                                   |                                 |
| Identified by .....   | Sutapa Gupta                                      |                                 |

The

End

