Poetry Conclave

Year Book 2022

We all know that words are the fundamental starting points of writing prose or poetry but we tend to agree with Samuel Coleridge's maxim: prose-words in their best order; poetry-the best words in their best order. Ezra Pound went as far as to say, 'Poetry is a composition of words set to music'. For many of us, it's too inclusive and we believe poetry has more to do with uncertainty than certainty, questions than answers. In poetry, one allows uncertainty and indistinctness of multiple scenarios to cohabit at times and resonate in our voices within.

With these words in mind, presenting "The Poetry Conclave Year Book, 2022", which is indeed an eclectic collection of poems from poets with varied themes and moods. The anthology includes works of sixty four talented poets from India and abroad. It excavates the modern narrative of uncertainty and questions and a meditation on the multi dimensions of life through the contemporary lenses. Moreover, this anthology boasts of some of the most intense and myriad poetic pieces hitherto unknown in many collections.
